

Amendments to the Abstract:

Please replace the Abstract of the Disclosure with the following amended Abstract.

Embodiments of the invention provide systems, methods, software products and/or data structures for testing software ~~programs and/or ensuring compliance of software programs with the Americans with Disabilities Act~~ programs. One exemplary set of embodiments provides a method for testing a software program. The method can be used in an object-oriented environment, and the software application can comprise a plurality of components.